

THE FOUR TYPES OF FLORIDA SMALL CITIES CDBG CATEGORIES

*Administered by
The State of Florida Department of Economic Opportunity
And Available for Eligible Local Municipal Governments*

HOUSING REHABILITATION

Funding to conduct housing rehabilitation, relocation, removal or new construction activities for eligible low and moderate income residents.

NEIGHBORHOOD REVITALIZATION

CDBG funding for a variety of neighborhood improvement projects that may include utility and drainage, paving, sidewalks, lighting, fire protection, removal of architectural barriers and numerous other neighborhood and community development/improvement projects to prevent continuing deterioration, crime, health and safety problems for low- and moderate-income residents.

COMMERCIAL REVITALIZATION

Funding to improve the downtown commercial districts to promote business in areas where there is a general decline in commercial activity. This program may include storefront improvements, sidewalks, mall walks, lighting improvements, paving, curbing and litter receptacles, utility line replacements, parking and other activities that promote increased business activity. These activities are designed to increase municipal tax bases while creating greater opportunities for jobs.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

funding on a 50/50 public and private investment development project designed to generate business activity through the creation of new jobs in Florida. These funds may be used for a variety of job creation projects such as manufacturing plants, industrial park developments, and labor intensive retail businesses such as restaurants. These funds may be used for land acquisition, capital needs, utilities, building construction, and may be used for new or expanded business activity that creates one new-to-Florida job for each $35,000 of CDBG funds used for the project.

CDBG FUNDING AMOUNTS

FDEO will make up to $24.8 million in FFY 2021 funding and approximately $23 million in FFY 2022 funding available to eligible applicants in the four program areas listed above.
